

Fire Crackers

"Seasoned saltine crackers that are simple to make and add a special touch for your dips and spreads at parties. Can be used with whole wheat crackers and different kinds of dip/dressing mixes successfully so have fun and get creative!"

INGREDIENTS

- 1 lb unsalted saltine crackers ( 4 sleeves)
- 1 cup canola oil
- 1 (1 ounce) packet ranch dressing mix
- 2 tablespoons crushed red pepper flakes
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

DIRECTIONS

1. Line crackers on ends (like dominoes) in an air-tight container.
2. In a small bowl, mix oil, dressing mix, peppers, and garlic powder.
3. Stir until all ingredients are well mixed.
4. Continue to stir to prevent the pepper from settling on the bottom of the bowl.
5. Spoon mixture evenly over crackers, like drizzling icing on a cake.
6. Close lid tightly and flip the container over every 5 minutes for about 20 minutes. Lightly shake back and forth to make sure all the crackers are coated.
7. Store in a ziplock bag. Will keep for about a week -- if they last that long!

Goes Good With The Jalapeno Cheese Ball Recipe...